

Youth Support Worker

The Nuu-chah-nulth Tribal Council (NTC) is seeking a permanent, full time Youth Support Worker to join the Child & Youth Services (CYS) department. The Youth Support Worker will communicate with various service providers and coordinate activities to promote support plans and healing within a culturally safe framework. This position is based out of Port Alberni. Travel to remote communities is required (including on gravel road by vehicle, boat and airplane).

Responsibilities Include

- ◆ Develop and deliver youth groups and activities that promote connection and a sense of belonging and purpose.
- ◆ Provide physical activities that support wellness and connection.
- ◆ Conduct intakes and assessment of youth clients from a strengths-based model by engaging and listening to their problems, establishing goals, and supporting them through those times.
- ◆ Provide assistance with daily living activities, supportive mentorship around building coping and life skills.
- ◆ Establish relationship-based and culturally sensitive practice with youth.

Preferred Qualifications

- ◆ Diploma or certificate in related field preferred, plus professional experience ideally working with Nuu-chah-nulth youth.
- ◆ CPR/First Aid Certificate.
- ◆ Knowledge of trauma-informed service practice, complex and intergenerational trauma.
- ◆ Knowledge of Nuu-chah-nulth governance, culture and traditions; or being a First Nations person will be considered an asset.
- ◆ Effective organization and time management skills.
- ◆ Possess a strong philosophical attitude incorporating harm reduction, anti-racism/anti-oppression, trans-positivity and youth engagement.
- ◆ Must have a valid BC Driver's licence, access to a reliable vehicle, and able to travel within the region.
- ◆ Provide acceptable work references and RCMP criminal record check.
